SEPTEMBER 24, 2012
DEMOLITION AND RELOCATION PERMITS
HDP-2012-0294
4532 AVENUE F

PROPOSAL

Demolish a ca. 1930 house.

ARCHITECTURE

One-story rectangular-plan cross-gabled frame bungalow with a partial-width side-gabled independent porch on battered wood posts and paneled brick piers. Fenestration patterns are unknown – the house is boarded up.

RESEARCH

The house appears to have been built in 1930, but the first time the address appears in the city directories, the house is listed as vacant. Fireman James Whitaker and his wife purchased the house around 1931 and lived here until around 1936. The house was rented out until around 1940, when it was purchased by house painter Carl Blum and his wife, Barbara Ethel. Members of the Blum family remained in this house for the rest of their lives – the last surviving daughter, Dorothy, a retired telephone operator, lived here almost until her death in 2004.

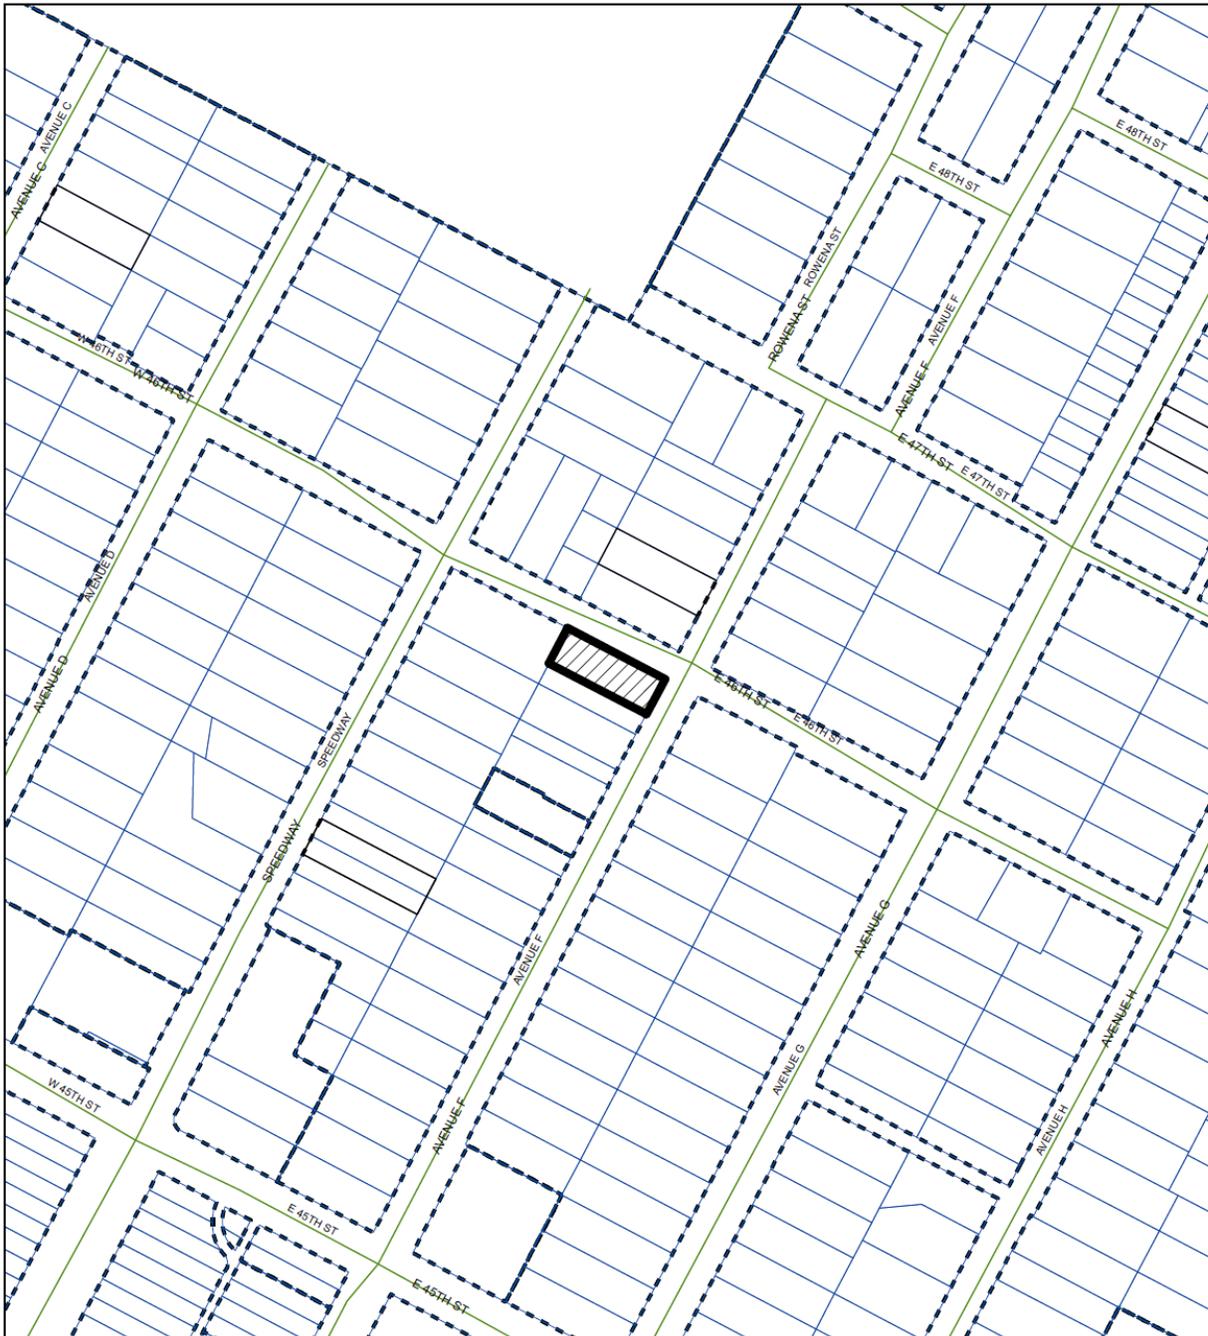

STAFF COMMENTS

The house is beyond the bounds of any City survey.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION

Release the demolition permit application after completion of a City of Austin Documentation Package consisting of photographs of all elevations (with boards over the windows and doors removed), a dimensioned sketch plan, and a narrative history for archiving at the Austin History Center.

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

JAMES M. and PEARL WHITAKER (ca. 1930 - ca. 1934)

JAMES M. and JEWEL WHITAKER (ca. 1934 – ca. 1936)

James M. Whitaker was born in Texas in 1900. He appears in the 1900 U.S. Census report as the infant son of Jesse and Lucindy Whitaker, Kentucky-born farmers in Hays County, Texas. By 1910, according to the census report, the family had moved to Travis County. James M. Whitaker does not appear in the 1920 U.S. Census report, but the 1930 census report shows him living in a rented duplex at 1406 Guadalupe Street with his wife, Pearl. He is listed as a city fireman; Pearl Whitaker was a rural school teacher. James Whitaker was 30; Pearl Whitaker was 29. They had no children. It is possible that James and Pearl Whitaker divorced between 1930 and 1940 – she died in Junction, Texas in 1982 and it seems clear that James Whitaker married another woman, Jewel, by 1935.

The 1940 U.S. Census report shows James M. and Jewel Whitaker living in a rented house at 1311 W. 10th Street in Austin. James M. Whitaker was then 40 years old; his wife is listed as Jewel Whitaker, who was then 33, had been born in Texas, and was an office worker at a department store. She also appears in the 1930 U.S. Census report as the wife of Dee Bird, an auto mechanic. James Whitaker and Jewel had a daughter, Barbara, who was 6, Jewel's two sons, Douglas, 14, and Eugene, 11, and Jewel Whitaker's mother, Dora Hamilton, a 63-year old widow. Her boys and mother are also listed in the 1930 census when she was married to Dee Bird. She died December 24, 1991 in Tarrant County, as Jewel Bird.

CAPTAIN JAMES M. WHITAKER

Captain James Marion Whitaker, 54, of 107 East Anne, died at his home Tuesday. He was a retired fireman, having served for 32 years in the Austin Fire Department.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Barbara White of Monaca, Pa., three brothers: Henry Whitaker of Kyle, John W. Whitaker and Lee Whitaker, both of Austin, and four sisters: Mrs. Lida McCowan of Buda, Mrs. Fannie McCrary of San Marcos, Mrs. Julia O'Dell of Driftwood and Mrs. Anne Tomblin of San Marcos.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. at the Hyman Manor Funeral Home, with Dr. D. H. Bonner of the Congress Avenue Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Live Oak Cemetery. Pallbearers will be R. A. Spears, Jr., W. O. Lane, W. A. McAngus, Leo Brown, Claude Wright Jr., and Tom Pinckney.

CARL F. and BARBARA ETHEL BLUM and FAMILY (ca. 1940 – ca. 1990s)

The 1930 U.S. Census shows Carl F. and B. Ethel Blum living 1t 1600 E. 14th Street, a house they owned, and which was worth $2,200. Carl Blum was then 41, had been born in Texas to German-born parents, and was a house painter. B. Ethel Blum was then 37, had been born in Texas, and had no occupation listed. They had 5 children: Claudia, 15, who was a saleslady in a department store, Freddie, 12, Helen, 9, Dorothy, 6, and Carl, Jr., 4. All the children had been born in Texas.

The 1900 U.S. Census reveals that Carl Blum was the 11-year old son of Annie Blum, a 50-year old widow who had been born in Germany. The family lived at 1604 E. 14th Street. Annie Blum was a washerwoman. The 1910 U.S. Census shows Carl Blum living with his mother, Annie, at 1406 E. 14th Street. Annie Blum is listed as having her own income. Carl Blum was listed as a paper-hanger. With them also lived Carl's sister Lena, and her husband, John G. Brideson (Brydson?), who is listed as a painter. He was 35 and had been born in Wisconsin. Lena (Helena) Blum Brideson was 22. They had an infant.

The 1940 U.S. Census shows Carl and Ethel Blum living in a rented house at 1112 E. 9th Street. Claudia and Freddie were no longer listed in the census listing with their parents. Carl Sr. was a painter with building construction. The Blums had another daughter, Nancy, 7. None of the remaining children had an occupation listed.
